INCOMPETENT JURIES.

Governor Hadley of Missouri in an address at St. Louis, said that one-third of the judges and one-half of the lawyers of the country were unnecessary to the best welfare of the people.

The Governor could also have said that the verdict of many juries was a menace to the public. It is no part of our business to champion the side of the judges or lawyers and we do not doubt that one-third of the judges and one-half of the lawyers could be dispensed with without detriment to the best welfare of the people. But there are honest judges and honest lawyers. The greatest menace that we have is incompetent juries. Those, that from sympathy or other causes, turn loose on the community criminals of the worst class. The most common means of saving a criminal from the death penalty is the insanity dodge.

The judge may be corrupt and the lawyers dishonest, but a man cannot be pronounced insane except by the verdict of a jury.

Governor Willson alive to the evil referred to, has issued a statement which we give in part:

"The escape of the murderer, Arthur Miles, from the Hopkinsville asylum moves the Governor to make this statement for the protection of the people of Kentucky from dangerous murderers. Earlier in the Governor's term, a powerful negro named Theodore Veebals, was tried in the Jefferson Circuit Court for murdering his wife, a very brutal and cruel murder. He played crazy and was sent to the asylum at Lakeland, and it was clear to the officers who were experienced in insanity at that institution that he was not insane and he was therefore sent to the Frankfort penitentiary. There he played crazy again and finally the officers of the penitentiary were persuaded to send him before the Franklin Court and there a jury found him insane and he was sent to Lexington, from which place he escaped and is now at large, a danger to every household which he may be near to. If he were not entirely sane, he is a dangerous animal in whose presence nobody's life is safe and his escape is entirely due first to the jury sentencing him to death, and second, to a jury sending him to an insane asylum where they have no way of confining dangerous murderers. This has suggested to acute criminal lawyers a means of getting rid of life sentences for murderers.

"The next instance of it was Warner who murdered Pulaski Leeds in cold blood in Louisville. Mr. Leeds was a very useful and valuable man and he was murdered without cause or excuse. His murderer, who was perfectly sane, succeeded in having himself adjudged a lunatic and was sent to Hopkinsville and escaped—another murderer set free to endanger people. He was subsequently recaptured and brought back at great expense and again sent to the asylum and again escaped.

"Not long since, this man, Arthur Miles, who murdered a young girl, Bessie Stith in Louisville, was tried and sentenced to death. He had been once in the insane asylum, and the Judge conscientiously, but it seems to me most unfortunately, gave him a new trial, and on that trial he was sentenced to imprisonment for life. His relatives were able to start the insanity machinery in Lyon county and a Lyon county jury has sent him to the insane asylum at Hopkinsville and he has escaped and is at large and the officers are asking that a reward be offered for him. Just before he escaped, he was examined by Dr. H. P. Sights, an experienced alienist and certainly more competent to judge than jurors who are not doctors, or local doctors, and he reached the conclusion in his official report, that he 'is a degenerate and is feigning insanity,' and now this man is at large, a degenerate of powerful physique, dangerous to every unprotected woman and girl through the complaisance and great mistake of the Lyon county jury."

A wise one suggests that the reason of Solomon's wisdom was that he had so many wives to tell him what to do.

If it were not for high living, living would be not so high.

"Roosevelt is dead." "Bryan is dead." "The Republican party is dead." "Socialism is dead." "Prohibition is dead." We read all or some of these announcements in exchanges that come to this office, and if we remember correctly, we read some years ago that the Democratic party was dead.

We suggest a return to the old-time lotteries. They are preferable to the modern skin games.

It is a good thing to have friends, but the less we have need of them the better.

Fifteen fortune-tellers in New York were arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses. If all the fakirs that obtain money under false pretenses are arrested the jails would have to be enlarged.

Fortunately none of us will ever know how soon we are forgotten after we are dead.

We see much in the papers about doing Christmas shopping early. This suggestion is on the assumption that you have the money to do the shopping.

Profit In Mule Raising.
Ever stop to think that the average mule sells for about $10 more than the average horse? Ever think that there is never any difficulty in selling a mule, while the market for horses may be dull? There never has been an overproduction of mules, and there does not seem likely to be in the future. It costs less to raise a mule, and he is always a money maker, whether for work or for sale.

Money In Mules.
There may be a lingering prejudice against the breeding of mules, but the fancy prices prevailing for well developed spurs ought to wipe out that prejudice.

STRONG POINTS OF AYRSHIRE CATTLE.

The Ayrshire, while the youngest of the four great dairy breeds, occupies a position pre-eminently unique in that she is the dairy rustler and fills that position greatly to her credit. Her ability to occupy this position results first from her origin. Springing from the native white cattle of Scotland, she has been improved by judicious crossing and careful selection, but always compelled to endure the most rigorous exposure and to obtain her food as best she could. This exposure through long generations has developed in the Ayrshire cow the necessary strength of constitution to enable her to take up her abode in any climate and under the most adverse food conditions and still maintain her position as the profitable dairy cow, giving the largest return possible for the food supply.

The second reason why the Ayrshire cow may well be designated the dairy rustler is her physical formation and mental characteristics. She is of medium size, weighing about 1,000 pounds at maturity, with the perfect dairy conformation of a clean, bony head, strong jaws, broad muzzle, large, full eyes, slim neck, strongly attached to head and shoulders; fine shoulders at the withers, straight back, well arched ribs, giving abundant room for heart and lungs, and a large receptacle for roughage.

It is perhaps these points that show the marked characteristic of the Ayrshire cow as a dairy rustler. She is quick and active in her movements, has a large mouth and strong jaws, is not at all dainty in her appetite and eats with a relish whatever is easiest and most quickly obtained—good grass, poor grass or browse—and her large paunch is soon filled.

While the Ayrshire has always been kept where the natural food supply is limited and where the chief object in keeping her was to receive profit at the pall above cost of production, she has never until within a few years fallen into the hands of liberal feeders whose pride was to see what was in the Ayrshire cow when fed for a record for milk and butter. The official records in dairy tests have proved her ability to respond to liberal feed. Today there are a number of records of from 12,000 to 15,000 pounds of milk in a year and from 500 to 700 pounds of butter in a year.

The Ayrshire breed of dairy cattle is noted for its hardiness and ability to thrive under adverse conditions.

The Farmer's Lawyer.

Ignorance of the law excuses no one.

Notes bear interest only when so stated.

Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced.

An agreement without consideration of value is void.

Principals are responsible for the acts of their agents.

If a note is lost or stolen it does not release the maker. He must pay it if the consideration for which it was given and the amount can be proved.

A note obtained by fraud or from a person in a state of intoxication cannot be collected.

It is a fraud to conceal a fraud. Signatures made with a lead pencil are good in law. The acts of one partner bind the rest.

The maker of an "accommodation" bill or note (one for which he had received no consideration, having lent his name or credit for the benefit of the holder) is not bound to the person accommodated, but is bound to all other parties, precisely as if there was a good consideration.

Liberal Feeding Pays.

It never pays to "rough" stock through the winter. The best beef that can be put on any animal is the baby beef. It has been thought by many farmers that it is a matter of economy to rough animals through the winter and then fit them with the aid of pasture in the spring. This, however, simply serves to set them back and has never been found to pay. This same statement would apply to hogs equally well. If there is not enough feed on the place to carry the hogs through and fit them quickly and if prices do not seem to warrant the purchase of feed, then it is much better to market them at once rather than stunt them by short feed in the winter. A stunted animal never made anybody money.

Grain For the Colt.

A fair allowance of grain for the colt measured in oats is as follows: Up to one year of age, two to three pounds; one to two years of age, four to five pounds; two to three years of age, seven to eight pounds.

A Badge of Honesty

Is printed on the outer wrapper of every bottle of

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

and it is the only medicine for woman's peculiar ailments, sold by druggists, the makers of which feel fully warranted in thus taking the afflicted into their full confidence

The more known about the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the more confidently will invalid women rely upon it to cure their peculiar weaknesses and derangements. There's no secrecy about its make-up—no deceptive inducements held out to the afflicted. It's simply a good, honest, square-deal medicine with no alcohol, or injurious, habit-forming drugs in its composition. Made wholly from roots. It can do no harm in any condition of woman's organism.

Devised and put up by a physician of vast experience in the treatment of woman's maladies. Its ingredients have the indorsement of leading physicians in all schools of practice.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere as the standard remedy for diseases of women and has been so regarded for the past 40 years and more.

Accept no secret nostrum in place of "Favorite Prescription"—a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, with a record of 40 years of cures behind it.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Favorite Prescription." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Where It Went.

A little boy, who was taken to the seaside for the first time, happened to arrive when the tide was at the full. On getting up the next morning and looking for the sea, now far out, he cried: "Why, mother, it's all gone down its sink!"
